

Curriculum vitae

Personal information:

Michael Nemytov, MD

Education:

August 1991 – July 1997	Ural State Medical Academy, Yekaterinburg, Russia. Diploma of Doctor of Medicine.
----------------------------	---

Postgraduate training:

July 1, 2022 – June 30, 2023	Stony Brook University, Neurophysiology Fellowship
---------------------------------	--

July 1, 2021 - June 30, 2022	The University at Buffalo, Epilepsy Fellowship
---------------------------------	--

July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2021	SUNY Downstate, Neurology Residency program
---------------------------------	---

July 1, 2016 - June 30, 2017	Internal Medicine Residency program, Preliminary track, Lincoln Medical and Mental Health Center, Bronx, NY
---------------------------------	---

May 2005 - May 2009	Fellow in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at Carmel Medical Center, Haifa, Israel. Carmel Medical Center provides comprehensive health care to the heterogeneous inhabitants of Haifa and its suburbs. It has outstanding Cardiology, Cardiovascular, and Thoracic Surgery Departments. Affiliated with the Medical school at Technion – Israel institute of Technology.
------------------------	--

October 2001 – August 2003	Fellow in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care of the Ural State Medical Academy.
-------------------------------	---

September 1997 – July 1998	Resident in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care of the Ural State Medical Academy.
-------------------------------	---

Employment history:

December 2024 – Present – Mariwalla Neurosurgery. Outpatient Neurology.

July 2023 – April 2024 – NYC H+H/Lincoln, Bronx NY, Division of Neurology/Epileptology. Inpatient consults, outpatient Neurology, EEG reading, teaching and supervision of Internal Medicine residents.

May 2009 – July 2011 – Physician in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at Sverdlovskaya Oblastnaya Clinicheskaya Bolnitsa #1, Yekaterinburg, Russia. Oblastnaya Clinicheskaya Bolnitsa #1 is the largest multidisciplinary medical center in the region, including Cardiovascular Surgery, Neurosurgery, Transplantation, and Dialysis Departments. It is a teaching hospital of USMA (Ural State Medical Academy), a place for medical student rotations, and postgraduate training. It is a recognized industrial leader in the development and implementation of the newest technology, practicing a scientific approach in medicine, and providing the highest quality health care.

September 2003 – April 2005 – Junior Scientist in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at Science and Research Institute of Motherhood and Neonatology, Yekaterinburg, Russia (moonlighting as a physician in the same facility).

October 2001 – April 2005 – Physician in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at Science and Research Institute of Motherhood and Neonatology, Yekaterinburg, Russia. Science and Research Institute of Motherhood and Neonatology is the largest medical center in the region specializing in Obstetrics, Gynecology and Perinatology. It is a leader in Reproductive Medicine and Infertility, Maternal-Fetal Medicine and Neonatology, Reproductive Genetics, Family Planning and Birth Control. It is recognized for its pursuit of innovative ways to treat patients, and building up in the integration of clinical, research and educational services to provide superior women's healthcare.

September 1998 – October 2001 – Physician in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at City Medical Center #14, Yekaterinburg, Russia. City Medical Center #14 is a community medical center serving about 200 thousand residents. It is a multidisciplinary hospital including Medical, Surgical, Obstetrics and Gynecology departments, and extensive and comprehensive Diagnostic Division. It is known for excellent tradition in Endoscopic surgery. It is educational facility for medical students and postgraduate education. Affiliated with USMA (Ural State Medical Academy).

Professional skills:

- EEG reading and interpretation, treatment of epilepsy
- EMG/NCS reading and interpretation

- Assessment of neurologic status, management of acute and chronic neurological conditions

Licensures and certifications:

August 16, 2024 ABPN certificate # 66585
Through 07/31/2026 NY State Medical License # 308273
August 26, 2015 ECFMG certificate # 08885667

Research:

May 2023 – QI project: Optimization of inpatient seizure treatment at the Stony Brook University Hospital.

May 2022 - QI project: Optimization of patient admissions in EMU department of Oishei Children's Hospital, Buffalo.

May 2021 – QI project: Improvement of management of status epilepticus in the ER at Kings County Hospital.

September 2003 – April 2005: Junior Scientist in the Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care at Science and Research Institute of Motherhood and Neonatology, Yekaterinburg, Russia (moonlighting as a physician in the same facility).

Comparative characteristics of analgesics of central action and peripheral action in treatment of postoperative pain. M.Y. Nemytov. Department of Anesthesia and Critical Care. Actual questions of modern medical science and health. Materials of 52nd science conference of junior scientists and students, May 13, 1997, Yekaterinburg

Language:

English, Russian